The big picture

Don't you like to see the world you've created?
It's a reflection of the things you always hated
Don't you like to see the starvation?
Don't you like to see the separation?

Don't you like to see the wars raging?
Still the same we were 2000 years ago, we're not changing
Don't you like to see the rich get richer?
Don't you like to see the big picture?

The big picture is fading away, fading away
More and more and more everyday
Everyday

Don't you like to see the gods we put our faith in?
We elect them and we pay for their dinners and their late night sins
A terrorist can take thousands of lives with two airplanes
A terrorist can take thousands of lives as a president

Don't you like to see the suppression of freedom
We've had our prophets and our revolutionaries
But then we kill them
Don't you like to see your neighbours bleeding?
But hey, it's not your house
It's not your children that you need to be feeding

The big picture is fading away, fading away
More and more and more everyday
Everyday...
